INDUSTRIAL EXPOSITION IN LONG BEACH JAN. 31st

All roads will lead to Long Beach the last day of January when the beach city will inaugurate its First Annual Industrial Exposition. Exposition Week promises to be the biggest event in the history of Long Beach. Elaborate plans are already being made to accommodate the thousands of Canadians and Easterners who will attend. The Long Beach Chamber of Commerce is behind the project and an impressive program of events for the week has just been announced.

Long Beach boasts of 143 industries and they will all be represented when the curtain goes up at the Municipal Auditorium where the exhibition is to be held. Only strictly "Made in Long Beach" products are to be shown and the long list includes everything from ocean liners to tinned tuna and rose beads. The immense auditorium will be partitioned off into gay decorated booths where the Long Beach manufacturer will display his wares.

Although the chief purpose of the exposition is to boost Long Beach and its industries, the thousands of people swarming into the city from all over the country need entertaining and that feature of the week is being elaborately provided for. From long experience Long Beach has learned how to entertain visitors. The Pike will be going full blast and the entire city will be in gala attire. Each day of the week is to be devoted to some special feature. One day has been designated Mayor's Day when the chief executives of the principal cities and towns of Southern California will be the guests of honor.

The citizens of Long Beach are just now campaigning for the selection of their Exposition Queen who is to be chosen by popular vote to preside over the week's festivities. Several nearby towns have signified their interest in the event by choosing Ladies of Honor to represent them during the week in costumes symbolizing the communities from which they come. They will attend the exposition as guests of the exposition managers and will accompany the Queen in all her appearances.

All the western railroads are giving the event wide publicity. Announcements are being placarded in railroad stations throughout the mountain and coast states. The Canadian Pacific Railroad is displaying Exposition Week notices throughout Manitoba and the border towns.

It is planned to make Exposition Week a permanent mid-winter event rivaling the Pasadena Flower Show. Its importance and interest are not confined to Long Beach and Exposition Week promises to be Southern California's big mid-winter carnival.
